

Employment

The Reentry program staff will assist participants in job preparation and placement services upon release, however it is the participant's responsibility to pursue any job leads.

Although it is difficult to find employment due to criminal background, it is the expectation of the program that you inform any prospective employer of your criminal history. This facility is committed to locating employers that will hire ex-offenders in order to provide stable employment situations.